CIR Update and June Special Offer

Dear Friends and Customers,

The summer is here and again, we are writing to you with our news and details of exciting new products and introductory offers. This month we are launching a new Personal Harmoniser, which we have been trialling since the beginning of the year: The Four-Spiral Personal Harmoniser.

Also this summer we are launching an entirely new product line, which is dedicated to the superb artwork created by our friend Christine Parry. Please see overleaf for details of our June Special Offer.

The customer testimony for this newsletter comes to us courtesy of Eric Huurre, a stalwart friend and promoter of our products in Canada. He has been introducing them to farmers and growers and has a strong interest in education. He believes (and so do we) that we need to teach our children environmental awareness, which includes Nature's subtle energies and processes. Our products could play an important part in this.

We are in the process of setting up a new internet store on our website. We hope it will be up and running in the beginning of June. This will be a modern shopping cart type store with all the security features. It will also include an affiliate scheme, which will allow others to market our website and earn from our shop. Initially this is a service only open to our distributors. However, as soon as we have come to grips with it ourselves, we are intending to open up this scheme to anyone who wishes to join. We will keep you posted and in the meantime invite all our distributors to contact us for further details.

CIR is growing! We'd like to extend a warm welcome to the new staff who have joined us this year. James Wadge and Mark Bonner in the workshop, Jo Brown in the office. We are also pleased that Andy Dunlop, who worked with us several years ago, re-joined us last year. Thank you all for your hard work and effort.

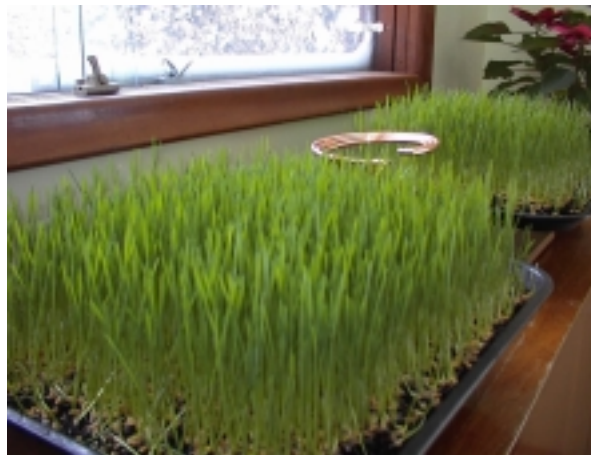

Finally, our bio-fuel business is growing, too. We have now doubled our monthly fuel sales since the end of last year, with new customers contacting us every week. If you are not familiar with used cooking oil derived bio-fuels for diesel engines, please look on the main Bio-Power website www.bio-power.co.uk There may even be a local bio-fuel producer in your area.

You might be interested to know that Bio-Power, in partnership with Energy 21, are organising a one-week Renewable Energy Event from 10th to 18th July 2004 to be held in Llanberis, North Wales. There will be plenty of activities, workshops, lectures etc. For more information and to book please visit www.dragonfire.org.uk

We wish you all a wonderful summer
Your CIR team

Case Study in Commercial Organic Growing

From November, 2003 to March, 2004 a pilot study using Centre for Implosion Research (CIR) devices was conducted at Canada's first indoor organic sprout farm. Super Sprouts www.supersprouts.com is committed to providing living foods through a wide variety of premium-quality sprouts and other health products. Of note - the operation uses a reverse osmosis water treatment system and full spectrum florescent lights. One Vortex Energiser and two large EMF Harmonisers (all in copper) were installed in this downtown Toronto storefront and growing room. The Vortex Energiser was installed downstream of the existing water treatment unit used for watering the sprouts. Given the high number and positioning of the grow lights, one of the EMF Harmonisers was placed directly on a growing rack, the other Harmoniser was positioned in the office area to counteract the effect of the computers, lights and other electrical appliances in the storefront.

from 10 to 7 days meaning more product is grown in fewer days: "We'll have to adjust our planting cycles because the crop is growing that much faster than before," stated the farm manager. A definite change in energy throughout the space has resulted: "Everyone is noticing a much calmer, more peaceful energy."

- where one of the large EMF harmonisers is closest to the plants, those plants, in particular, are 5 cm or more taller than the others
 - the juice from the wheat grass grown at Super sprouts is "far sweeter than anything experienced here in the previous ten years. It's just amazing."
 - buckwheat sprouts literally pop up from the earth
 - there has been a noticeable reduction in signs of plant mould
- As is the case in other agricultural applications tested to date, the yield, vitality, appearance and taste of produce, flowers, herbs and plants are enhanced by the CIR devices treating the water and neutralizing the growing environment. The greater benefit - more nutritious produce - is also reported by consumers, but has not been scientifically measured. Independent lab facilities interested in doing this type of comparative testing will be pursued as part of the ongoing study.

According to the Super Sprouts production manager the following results have been observed over the course of the study:

- grow cycles for wheat grass in particular have been reduced

The New Four-Spiral Personal Harmoniser™

The Four-Spiral Personal Harmoniser, like all our Harmonisers, contains highly energised, imploded water. It is made from the same size copper tubing as our small Triple Personal Harmoniser.

When we first experimented with this four-spiral design we were struck by its balance and beauty; four spirals of equal dimensions, incorporating the synergy and balance between the masculine and the feminine.

Initial kinesiological tests have shown that out of all our Personal Harmonisers, the Four-Spiral is the most effective at providing personal protection from electro-magnetic radiation/pollution. Trials are underway at the moment to test the Four-Spiral's ability to counteract Tetra radiation. Initial customer feed-back is very encouraging. The Tetra mobile communication system is currently being employed by the police in several UK counties. Its radiation is far more damaging than conventional mobile phone and transmitter radiation and poses a particularly serious threat to human health. To find out more, please visit www.protectsussexfromtetra.org

We are very excited by the potential of this new Personal Harmoniser and would like to invite you to experiment with it. Please let us know your findings.

For the month of June only, with every two Four-Spirals (any metal) you buy, we will give you one copper Four-Spiral FREE.

Dimensions: 5.3cm long, 4.1cm wide

CIR art line™

A new line of CIR products is being launched with this newsletter.

Over the last year or so, Christine Parry—friend, supporter, promoter and photographer extraordinaire—has been photographing our products, creating stunning images in their own right.

Through CIR art line we wish to make these images available to all our customers and have decided to start by offering one particularly beautiful image (predominantly yellow), which is printed on a high quality black cotton T-Shirt. It is striking and evocative. Tell us what you can see!

Here is what Christine writes herself:

"We cannot physically touch the stars in the heavens, but we can draw upon their ethereal universal energy through the enlightened tools created for us by CIR. The ability to be able to hold harmony within ones palm is not only an exceptional concept, but a life enhancing opportunity and gift for us all.

*I am delighted and privileged to present to you a limited series of enigmatic artworks, which are exclusive to CIR. My images are my visual response to these most precious and perpetual tools. We are offering the first image as portable art in the form of a T-shirt. It has proven to be an excellent and mischievous way to tease the unaware but curious onlooker, and is most certainly more than a conversation starter. Wear it in good health with a knowing twinkle in your eye.
Bon Appetit, Christine Parry"*

THE NEW WATER EGG

Earlier this year, our new Pottery finally got production of our Water Eggs going. We now have a continuous stream of eggs coming in. With any luck we won't ever need to put customers on a waiting list again.

The New Water Egg has been improved in several ways. Notably the use of a chrome plated plastic tap, which is both smart and functional.

RETRO-FIT TAPS

To those customers who have the old style Water Egg, we are offering the plastic Retro-fit Tap. It fits the old style spout and cork collar perfectly. For those of you, who want a tap that gives a fast flow, doesn't leak or get discoloured, this is a permanent solution. The Retro-fit Tap (including the cork collar) is now available from us:
