CIR Update and Winter 06 Special Offer

Dear Friends and Customers,

We are very happy to be writing to all of you again this year with our usual November Newsletter and Winter Special Offer, and also to inform you on the progress we have made with the new Ancient Sources water-filled Jewellery Collection. You will all be pleased to know, that since we wrote to you of our plans for Ancient Sources in the Spring, a lot of exciting progress has been made to create beautiful, quality and beneficial products.

First, let's update you on what's been happening here at CIR during the summer months. Judy (Dolly's daughter), an archeologist/anthropologist working with the Pygmies of Gabon (Central Africa), has played a very important part in the development of Ancient Sources. Her input and expertise on historical and archeological topics has been invaluable.

Several people have helped to produce our new Ancient Sources logo, which truly reflects the historic and energetic qualities of our collection. We thank Christine (friend and gifted photographer/artist) for her beautiful photography and art work.

ANCIENT SOURCES

New pieces of water-filled jewellery have been created by us, all filled with CIR Imploded Water (see www.ancientsources.com). Many of these beautiful historic forms have been inspired, in part, from ancient jewellery prototypes and pictorial representations—some dating back to the Bronze Age and beyond—which remain symbolic timeless designs. We are confident you will be as excited about them as we are.

We explained in June that our intention is to broaden CIR's market with the Ancient Sources Collection and to make our beneficial products more available to the general public. With this in mind, our aim is to celebrate the aesthetic beauty of these ancient, symbolic designs while keeping the integrity of our water-filled products. We are currently approaching museum, heritage and gift shops to sell the Collection. Eric Huurre, a much appreciated friend and our Canadian distributor is working on reaching out to these new outlets on CIR's behalf. Eric is already in contact with The British Museum, English-Heritage and The National Trust and similar venues, and their retail outlets in the U.K. It's early days and we have already received very positive responses from shop and gallery buyers and their customers; and plan to continue to work with this type of outlet in Britain and Internationally.

As a result of our entry into this new market, we have had to make changes to the silver and gold plating specifications for our Ancient Sources Collection. Vast increases in the market price of base and precious metals have caused us to review the pricing structure. The prices on our website reflect these changes and our commitment to continuing the quality of our products.

We currently have products in stock including Wrist and Neck Torcs made to the original CIR specifications, which we would like to offer to our loyal CIR customers and resellers at discounted prices. Please visit our webshop and click on "CIR Products" to find out more about this Special Offer. These products are exclusively on offer to our existing CIR customers and resellers - for as long as stocks last.

We invite you to explore the new Ancient Sources Collection on www.ancientsources.com. The Ancient Sources part of the web shop already features the new price structure. Please notice that the platinum plated option is not currently available on the new products, however, the silver and gold plated options will be available very soon and are already listed. We are planning to offer platinum plating in the new year. In the meantime, the existing stocks still include platinum as well as tri-metal versions. You are welcome to telephone us to discuss your personal requirements and availability.

Throughout the development and launch of Ancient Sources, we've continued our efforts to develop and promote our core products and to provide our long standing CIR customers with excellent service. Our existing customers and distributors remain our primary focus. As always, we welcome and appreciate your feedback.

Wishing you an exciting, happy festive season

The CIR/Ancient Sources Team

Here are some recent testimonials:

"Your invention and loving kindness has turned the house I rent into my home. It feels sacred and inviting. I feel safe and relaxed in it, more than I ever have.

When I felt lost and confused in this somewhat strange world, it is heart warming to remember there are warriors like you working to re-align the powers of love.

Thank you again. My love and respect." Danielle

"On behalf of myself and my cats I would just like to say a big thank you to you for the difference you have made in our lives.

We live in a flat badly affected by EMR (electromagnetic radiation) and geopathic stress and your products have made life bearable. I can sleep of a night without being in pain from the EMF, I no longer go around like a bear with a sore head (not very often anyway!). Our immune system has improved—one of my cats would undoubtedly not be here today without the help of your products. My cats are often to be found sitting on or near the harmonisers I have dotted around the flat. When one of them came back from the vets after having an operation the first thing he did was lay with his head on a harmoniser I have tucked under the carpet. He has his favourite spot.

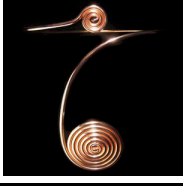

I also have a mini harmoniser attached to their basket on the kitchen table. A while back they would not go in it. I then realised that the harmoniser had been removed, but putting the harmoniser back in the basket put things to rights. The cats are using it quite happily again.

Many thanks and may your good work continue." Jane Short

"I've received a 4-Spiral personal harmoniser and it's working miracle. When I put it on some meridians which hurts, the pain go away. It cures my stiff neck and shoulders. Thank you so much for introducing this miracle of water!" Tomoko

"I purchased a mini harmoniser from you about a year ago, as I suffer from electrical sensitivity. After looking at various protection devices, I chose yours as it was inexpensive compared to other such devices on the market. I have to admit that I was a bit sceptical, but felt that if it didn't work, at least it was an attractive piece of jewellery! (unlike most of the others). At first, I thought it was helping, but couldn't be sure as I was also trying food supplements etc. However, I am now convinced - let me explain. Several times I have mislaid, and forgotten about it, only to have it mysteriously turn up in an unexpected place at a time when my sensitivity was really getting me down. Within 2 days of wearing it, life becomes bearable again. I don't know how or why it works, some might say it is largely psychological, but who cares, I FEEL BETTER! So thank you from the bottom of my heart for this fantastic discovery. I am now ordering one for my sister, who suffers from chemical sensitivity. Don't know whether it will work for this, but it certainly can't do any harm, and of course, if it doesn't work, its still a nice necklace!" Susan Ramage

"The gold water vortex antennae I purchased is wonderful. Bathing in the effected water is like being in a flowing stream, and the absorption of the water by the skin attests to the bio-activity imparted to the water by this device." Macleod Fitzgerald
